I have great pleasure in endorsing the article written by Mr. Mazharul Islam, who is a student (M. Phil/PhD) of the Faculty of Legal Studies, South Asian University, New Delhi. The name of the article is 'The WTO Compatibility of Trade Sanction: An Appraisal'. It deals with issues in the context of developing countries. The Author has made efforts to argue for some of the key trades and other concerns of developing countries within the WTO with specific focus on the Generalized System of Preferences (GSPs).
