

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

I infinitely feel delighted by penning these lofty lines about Mr. Saurabh Sharma, who has been pursuing his LL.M in International Law from the Faculty of Legal Studies (FLS), South Asian University (SAU) at New Delhi in India. Mr. Sharma intends to undertake part in R. P. Anand Essay Competition-2016 and he will work on the topic "Withdrawal From United Nations" under Public International Law.

The South Asian University is an International University of Higher Education that has been sponsored and established by the SAARC Nations under its SAARC Charter as an Inter-Governmental-Organization which enjoys the Status of a Diplomatic Mission under International Law and has duly been recognized by the United Nations Organization. The concept of SAU endeavors to delve the viability of South Asian assimilation premised on a convergence of regional coherence to achieve international tranquility, stability and prosperity. The SAU advances South Asian-ness and regional consciousness model to spur international narratives for creating world peace based on the democracy of pluralism, cosmopolitanism and multiculturalism.

Mr. Sharma is blessed with amiable and amicable personality of serious outlook that leaves an intelligent impression upon me. I appreciate his logical interventions, credible participation and realistic flamboyance in the classroom. I have the high joy of teaching him Comparative Constitutional Law of SAARC Nations (CCLSAARC�) in I Semester and I will also teach him International Human Rights Law (IHL) International Refugee Law (IRL) in III and IVth Semesters. I have given him responsibility to work as rapporteur for two Seminars on the topics "IPCS 20th Anniversary Plenum Series-Between Brexit and An Assertive Russia: Role of Poland" and "Post-Brexit Human Rights Landscape in Britain and Reciprocity for Britons in Mainland Europe" under my supervision and Mr. Sharma has submitted the report to the undersigned respectively that were immensely immaculate and impeccable in every dimension..

I have observed him to be strongly sophisticated, regimentally regulated and courteously well-mannered in his socio-academic obligations and institutional behaviour. Mr. Sharma has been participating in debates, discussions and discourses on a range of disciplines inter-alia Contemporary International Advanced Legal Issues and he also brought many more laurels to his vertical and horizontal mobility. Mr. Sharma calls on me to have ruminations on higher scholastic and legal issues in International Law, IHL, IRL and IHL etc. Mr. Sharma has grown understanding of global laws that might have influenced South Asian world.

Mr. Sharma has accomplished internships, research trainings and got published in areas dear to his vision and mission. His research orientation is brilliantly embedded in multi-disciplinary approaches that are germane to South Asia within the precincts of International Law. I strongly recommend him for the purpose supra solely dedicated to International Law. Mr. Sharma shall be an absolute institutional asset if he is granted an opportunity of being allowed in the ensuing Essay Competition-2016.
